What is claimed is:

12

13

1

2

1

A laundry drier having an internally mounted drum and including a base 1. 1 forming a bottom of a body, a front cabinet panel forming a front side of the body, a pair of 2 side cabinet panels forming opposing lateral sides of the body, a back cover forming a rear 3 side of the body, a top cover covering an upper part of the body, a control panel installed on a 4 rearward end of the top cover, and a front support piece installed behind the front cabinet 5 panel to support a front side of the drier drum, the laundry drier further comprising: a first support flange extending from an upper portion of the front cabinet panel and 7 having at least one slot formed in a central portion of said first support flange; and 8 a second support flange extending from an upper portion of the front support piece 9 and having at least one hooking portion formed by partially cutting through a predetermined 10 area of said second support flange, to bend the cut area into a hook that protrudes downward, 11

The laundry drier as claimed in claim 1, wherein each hook is formed by 2. lancing.

cabinet panel, to thereby pre-assemble the front support piece to the front cabinet panel.

wherein the hook of said second support flange is coupled with the slot of the front

The laundry drier as claimed in claim 1, wherein said first support flange has 3. at least two slots and said second support flange has at least two hooks. 2